

The figure displays two box plots side-by-side. The left box plot, colored green, represents the 'low' category and shows a median value of approximately 10. The right box plot, colored yellow, represents the 'high' category and shows a median value of approximately 20. Both plots include whiskers extending to the minimum and maximum values of the data.

